

Workshop "Civil society's public response to refugee crisis "

27 - 28th October, 2016

Baštova 5, Bratislava, Open Society Foundation Library

Organized by Inštitút ľudských práv - Human Rights Institute

Thursday 27th October 2016

11:00-11:30 Welcome and introduction note

Peter Weisenbacher, Executive director, Human Rights Institute

11:30-13:00 Panel discussion: Situation in V4 countries

Kinga Stanczuk, Razem, PL

Kata Nagy, Hungarian Europe Society, HU

Jan Exner, Idealisté.cz, CZ

Matej Ivančík, Human Rights Institute, SK

Moderation: Alena Krempaská

13:00 - 14:00 Lunch

14:00 - 15:30 Workshop: How we think about politics

Róbert Žanony, PR professional, SK

15:30 - 15:45 Coffee break

15:45 - 17:15 Workshop: How to work with mainstream media?

Jakub Patočka, editor-in-chief for Deník Referendum, CZ

17:15 - 17:30 Coffee break

17:30 - 19:00 Panel discussion: Experiences with communicating refugee crisis

Layla Bartheldi, CZ

Magdaléna Pospíchalová, Oranžový klub ČSSD, CZ

Matej Ivančík, Human Rights Institute, SK

Peter Weisenbacher, Human Rights Institute, SK

Moderation: Alena Krempaská

20:00 Informal get together

Dinner and drinks, Viecha u sedliaka, Obchodná 55, walking distance (6 mins) from venue

Friday 28th October 2016

09:30 - 11:00 Workshop: How to respond to refugee crisis from the party perspective

Kinga Stanczuk, head of international relations, Razem, PL

11:00 - 11.15 Coffee Break

11:15-11:45 Q&A session: Refugee crisis from economic perspective

Zoltán Pogátsa, economist, DiEM25 initiator, HU

11:45 - 13:00 Brainstorming: Lessons-learned: Dos and Dents in communication of refugee crisis

Rapporteur Alena Krempaská

13:00 - 14:00 Lunch

14:00 - 15:15 Brainstorming: Ideas for cooperation and future work

Rapporteur Alena Krempaská

15:15-15:30 Closing remarks, Feedback forms

Peter Weisenbacher, Executive director, Human Rights Institute

With financial support by Rosa Luxemburg Stiftung

